

In 1992, Brad (a retired Police officer) and Bonnie Wenneberg left the comfort of their successful careers and took a leap of faith to open a martial arts studio. Their very first student was a 10-year old boy in desperate need of self-esteem. Seeing him transform into a confident Black Belt Leader, they knew that they were on the right path.

Now, with a community of over 1,000 families, their greatest joy still comes from hearing the stories from parents of how the dojo has transformed their children.

With their son (Sensei Wenneberg) & daughter (Mrs. Garcia) working by their side, and a team of instructors who have been with them for over a decade, Shihan Brad and Bonnie are more passionate than ever about helping people.

After almost 30 years in business, American Martial Arts Academy is one of the largest and most successful Martial Arts School in the country.
